Only when you choose the right industry that suits your ability will you develop your strengths in the learning process and only when you choose the right school that provides you the best services will you be able to study practice and research.

2. Promote freedom:

Freedom here does not mean that you can do what you want, you like, but that you can freely state your ideas. Independence and proactive if used properly can be seen as the "guideline" that leads us to success, because then we will learn to listen to what our heart really wants and what to choose. To live with passion, be free to wave creativity, we will do it the best we can, rather than being forced into a boring framework.

In the increasingly fierce competition in the labor market, in recent years, learners have begun to choose a major based on the real needs of society, not just deciding to submit their application. Sign study based on the interests of relatives or ideals far removed from reality. The curriculum is practical; focus on improving career skills to help students be ready to participate in specific careers
